Warying weather was in prospect for the Southwest tonight following its March snowstorm, in some places the heaviest of the winter.

While in western Kansas and western Oklahoma temperatures were moderating and snow beginning to melt, a cold snap was creeping over Texas and this vicinity. Freezing temperatures, extending to the guif coast, were due for Texas tonight and tomorrow morning. The panhandle of Texas was under a 3-inch blanket of snow and rain was falling in north and northwestern Texas.

Nationalist Armies Plan Move to Make Early Capture of Shanghai.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)
Peking, March 1.—American bluejackets in two more instances upheld the treaty rights in the Yangtze dis-tricts, but in one case not until nation-alist troops had been transported many miles on commandeered American miles on commandeered American steamers.

At Chungking, Chinese boarded the steamer Chichuan of the Yangtze Rapids Co., a vessel that was being held for the evacuation of British and Americans from Szechwan province. On their refusal to clear the ship, the blue-jackets from the gamboat Monocacy boarded the Chichuan and after a rough and tumble fight ejected all the Chinese. Fearing further trouble at Ichang, where the situation also is bad, the Chichuan is bringing the refugees direct to Hankow, and if possible, to Shangha!

Chinese troops commandeered three vessels of the Standard Oil Co. of New York, at Shashi, but after the crews refused to navigate them, two of the vessels were abandoned. The third vessel, the Meihung, was occupied by 100 soldiers and compelled to proceed to the pressure of the far.

sel, the Meiniums, was occupied by 100 soldiers and compelled to proceed to Hankow, presumably destined for farther along the river, but the gunboat Pigeon captured the Meiniums in midstream, bringing it alongside the flagship Isabel, where bluejackets from both ships ejected the soldiers, also detaining 500 rifles and much ammunition.

The radical element of the nationalists launched a determined campaign for the removal of the moderates, and under the direction of the Russian adviser, M. Borodin, the radicals are virtually functioning as the Hankow government, with the result that Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek possibly will form a new government at Nanchang with a following which openly declares for the elimination of Mr. Borodin and his influence.

As a means of demonstrating their solidarity the radicals called an hour strike at Hankow, in which the electric lights, telephones, water works and all other utilities, as well as the business houses closed. In numerous instances houses closed. In numerous instances foreigners were dropped from rickshaws, while all the house servants ceased work for 60 minutes.

Although Hankow is strongly radical, the signs multiply that in other parts of the nationalist territory, the people are tiring of nationalist domination. Meantime, the nationalist armies are planning a movement for the investment of Nanking, with a view to the early capture of Shanghai, where labor is being restrained with difficulty.

Hyphenated Agitation of Wartime Dimensions Seeks to Coerce Congress.

Immigration Restriction is necessary for the national unity and economic well-being of the United States and is now the settled policy of the nation.

The Immigration Act of 1924, which was passed by an overwhelming majority, provides for putting into effect the "national origins" quota basis on July 1, 1927, and reduces the total quota immigration from about 164,000 to 150,000. This means that each nation's quota would be in proportion to its contribution to the total American stock since the days of the earliest settlers, instead of being based on the foreignborn here in 1890.

Various foreign-born, foreign language, foreign allegiance-or in other words "hyphenated" groups, however, soon saw that the quotas of their favorite nations overseas were to be reduced and at once began carrying on a campaign of agitation and intimidation demanding repeal or suspension of the law. It has been stated on the floor of the Senate without contradiction that members of Congress have been threatened with "political reprisals" unless they should comply with the Simultaneously there began to appear suggestions that the data for computing national origins was inadecuate. These statements, although widely credited in Washington at the moment, seem to be in conflict with the evidence.

Dr. Joseph A. Hill, Assistant to the Director of the Census, testifying before the House Immigration Committee in its hearings early in January, explained (1) that immigration records giving the number of immigrants arriving annually from each country have been kept since 1820; (2) that each decennial census since 1850 has classified the foreign born by country of birth, and (3) that there was a classification of racial stocks of the white population based on the census of 1790, and published by the Bureau of Census in a volume entitled "A Century of Population Growth."

Regarding the census of 1790, upon the accuracy of which doubt has been expressed, Dr. Hill said that in his opinion it was more accurate than those taken in more recent times.

The process for determining "national origins" is complicated. Much more so is the process by which it is known that the atom is made up of electrons. So is the process by which the details of construction of skyscrapers are figured, but we use the results in every day life. Space in this communication does not permit of even an outline of the quota board's procedure, but it is useful to know what Dr. Hill thinks of it. Regarding the method as a whole, he refers to it as "a scientific plan," and as to an important branch of the work he said, "I think the process we followed here is scientifically sound."

All modern scientific men seek at the earliest possible moment to ascertain "the probable error" in their calculations. Artillery officers are familiar with the term. Dr. Hill, while admitting that his figures were not 100 per cent accurate, and that they could be refined by study extending over a period of years, called attention to the fact that 150, 000 immigrants in the population meant one immigrant for every 600 inhabitants, so that an error of 600 inhabitants would make a difference of only one person in the quota, an error of 6,000 would mean ten immigrants, and 60,000 would mean only 100 immigrants.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, is quoted to show the alleged impossibility of computing "national origins" when he called attention to the fact that many Americans have mixed blood in their veins. But, as Dr. Hill pointed out in his testimony, it was not sought to ascertain how many pure blooded individuals of various stocks there were in the country, but rather of what strains the population was made up, and in what proportions. He put the case—"If you had four people, each of whom had one German grandparent and three English grandparents, so that each of them was three-fourths English and one-fourth German, we can say that we have the equivalent here of three English persons and one German person.'

That in a nutshell is the whole underlying conception of the "national origins" method. Its accuracy for practical purposes is vouched for by the experts who know most about it. Nobody can deny that it is fair, and based on a principle. If we are to have immigration restrictions—and we must—is it not better to have quotas based on a just rule or principle than on some arbitrary classification where the computation of quotas boils down to a political squabble between for-eign born groups as to which will have the largest immigration?

It is not necessary at present to comment on the mystery of the four different printed versions of the same letter bearing the signatures of the Secretaries of State, Commerce and Labor, dated January 3, 1927, appearing in the Congressional Record and other official documents. Owing to the confusion caused by the contradictory comments by the three Secretaries on the report of the Quota Board, the Senate, by resolution, has called for a final report. Again, it is to be hoped that it will not be necessary to investigate the question of what attempts have been made by representatives of foreign governments to influence members of Congress. But it may be asked, if the organized attack now under way, obviously based on divided allegiance, should be allowed to influence the government's policy on a question so clearly one of national self-preservation as immigration restriction?

Any Congressional action on this question now would be without debate or adequate consideration. Members of the House of Representatives, therefore, are asked to vote against the pending resolution to suspend operation of the law, which, its opponents hope and claim, is the first step toward repeal. Let the law take its course. If there is anything wrong with it, it can be repealed or amended in orderly fashion.

But do not allow it to be killed-or wounded, in the dark!

It clearly is indicated in official circles that the refusal of France to accept the President's proposal for a naval limitations conference is now the chief obstacle to proceeding with Mr. Coolidge's plan. Italy confidentially has advised the United States government she could not participate in such a conference if the French remain absent. And the President himself is understood to believe the British likewise can not seriously consider limitations in the absence of agreements by France.

There are 37,000 acres in reserve No. 1, of which 31,000 are government-owned, and private interests, chiefly the Standard Oil Co. of California, own the remaining 6,000. An effort by the government will be made to obtain an agreement with private owners by which oil can be conserved on the ground. Of the 31,000 government-owned acres, 12,000 are oil bearing. The 21 wells have a daily output of 3,800 barrels.

At present there is in the hands of the receivers about $9,900,000, which represents oil disposed of during litigation. This money will go to the Treasury, although the Navy Department is considering requesting Congress to use a portion of it for ultimate acquisition of the privately owned 6,000 acres.

U. S. Will Be Requested To Reimburse Oil Funds

The United States Supreme Court decision, canceling the leases on the ground that they were conceived in fraud, ruled that the amounts paid to the company in cash or oil must be refunded because the payments were made without authority of Congress.

Although no official comment was offered, officers of the company are understood to feel confident that the government will not refuse to make restitution. They pointed to the firm stand taken by Washington concerning confiscatory proceedings in the Mexican oil law situation, and declared that it is inconceivable that confiscatory measures would be taken at home.

The gross liability to be sought by the government may be reduced somewhat by counterclaims of the company. Among these will be a claim for $2.000/000 worth of fuel oil stored at Pearl Harbor, Hawsil, which the company claims is its property. A counterclaim slo will be made to Congres.

HOUSE PASSES BILL WITHOUT ROLL CALL

Measure Authorizes $800,000 for Site and $6,500,000 for Construction.

WOULD SERVA AS ANNEX TO OLD HEADQUARTERS

Quick Action Is Necessary in the Senate in Order to Obtain Structure.

Without a record vote the Hous yesterday passed a bill authorizing the erection of a new House office building. It now goes to the Senate, where is remains to be seen whether that body will be "courteous" enough at this stage and thus give the members of the lower house the additional space which they claim they need and which the senators now have.

The bill, reported out favorably by Chairman Elliott, of the House public buildings and grounds committee, after long consideration, authorizes an $80.0000 appropriation for the site and $6,500,000 for the building. It would be erected just across from the present of fice building, serving somewhat as an annex, athough it would be the last word in architecture, and having such appointments as shower baths, gymnasiums, swimming pools and the like.

Among the buildings that would have to be razed would be the Congress Hall hotel, where many of the members live, and the United States Public Health Service building.

Minority Leader Garrett, of Tennessee, joined with Majority Leader Tlison, of Connecticut, in asking for the passage of the bill, and it was done in short order. Although all members who wanted the folks back home to know that they "vigorously fought" the project were permitted to speak. Speaker Longworth railroaded the measure without a roll call, although a handful of members sought one.

The House overwhelmingly was in favor of the bill, however. Representative Woodrum. of Virginia, led the opposition and Representative Montague, of the same State, spoke briefly against it, although their colleague, expresentative R. Walton Moore, was one of the principal sponsors of the bill. Representative Edwards, of Georgia, whose district was not given a postoffice in the public buildings bill, volced his sentiments against it, too, and Representative Blanton, of Texas, could not let the opportunity go by to tell the House that with the $7,000,000 which it was to spend for additional office space, it could erect any number of postoffices.

Mr. Blanton said he had been "promised" a postoffice, though, and this led to a demand by Mr. Montague that he let the public know just how he could get any such promise.

Representative Wefald, of Minnesota, a "lame duck," asked Mr. Tilson a pointed question when the latter was urging the need of the building. No business corporation in the world would expect its

Although the Reed fillbuster was the one to come to a head yesterday, because it is the underlying and most stubborn of any, there are other forces in the Senate which will aid any program of delay, a circumstance which militates against extension of the "slush fund" committee's powers.

Last night it appeared as if the fill-buster could be broken only in one way, for Senator Reed, of Missouri, "In the opinion of the chair, he may not interrupt the reading of the journal," boomed Senator Willis. "I wish to protest against any such decision contrary to an unbroken line of precedents," said Senator Reed.

Just then, with only ten seconds to go, Senator Moses moved to suspend the reading of the journal and the reading of the fournal and the reading of the journal and the reading of the journal and the reading of the journal and the fournal and the reading of the journal and the reading of Even in the event of such a compromise, which appeared improbable, the opposition of Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, will not end, for he declared yesterday that he would oppose the resolution unless the Pennsylvania contest should be transferred to the committee on privileges and elections. Likelihood of compromise was discounted also by the exchanges off the figor of the Senate in which the opposing factions engaged yesterday. Senator Reed, of Missouri, with his guard down, several senators pointed out the two rules which said that the reading of the journal may not be interrupted, which made the Missouri member's speech of protest fall rather flat.

These rather impolite remarks came, however, after parliamentary weapons had been used for two hours on the floor of the Senate. Senator Reed, of Missouri, there finally made a petulant protest against the Senate refusal to receive a message from the House of Representatives and was proven wrong under two rules.

The first shots were fired under the smoke screen of a new interpretation of the cloture rule. The gavel had no sooner fallen than Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, made a point of order against reading of the journal on the ground that the language of the cloture rule "to the axclusion of all other business" prevented the Senate from doing anything but considering the prohibition reorganization bill every minute it was in session.

Two brothers, lost to each other for 17 years, have been reunited through the efforts of Michael P. McInerny, special investigator of the United States veterans' bureau.

The brothers, both veterans of the world war, are Albert G. Hildreth, 34 years old, of the Plaza apartments in this city, and LeRoy V. Hildreth, 28, of New York city, N. Y.

LeRoy disappeared from the Hildreth home in Hudson Falls, N. Y., when he was 11 years old and until yesterday no member of the family ever had heard from him. The parents of the brothers now live in Schenectady, N. Y. It is believed LeRoy later tried to find them, but was unable to trace them.

Albert enlisted in the army in 1916 for the Mexican trouble and stayed in when this country entered the world war. He was with the Twenty-seventh division while that outfit was brigaded with the Fourth British army in France and Belgium and he went through some of the fiercest battles in the war. He was wounded seven times.

LAR ARMY PROMOTIONS

ofortunate for officers of the army that the bill providing for promotion and retirement was not passed by the Senate until last Monday. Because of the fact that the bill was an "original" measure of the Senate military committee, it has little chance in the House during the two remaining days before adjournment. Yet, as explained by Chairman Wadsworth when he presented it for passage, it is of the highest importance in that it provides for the elimination of the "hump" over which promotion of officers whose present commissions are dated July 1, 1920, or later, is practically impossible as the law now stands.

There are 5,800 officers of the military esablishment who were all appointed as of that day. They are mostly of the same age and nearly all of the same grade. "The result is," said Chairman Wadsworth, "that for 25 years to come there will be such a condition of stagnation in the matter of promotion in the regular army that the military careers of most of the 5,800 will be utterly destroyed."

He further explained that the bill represents he best opinion of the committee on military affairs as to the way to obviate the situation to absorb the "hump" and to establish a uniform and proper flow of promotion among officers of the regular army. Mr. Wadsworth was so clear in his presentation that, in spite of the fact that the bill had never been formally introduced and referred to the committee, no objection was raised and it was passed unanimously.

Briefly, it provides for a promotion list of all officers of the active list of the line of the army below the grade of colonel, and that such promotion-list officers shall be promoted to the grade of first lieutenant after 3 years' service, to the grade of captain after 10 years, to e of major after 17 years, to outenant colonel after 23 years and to de of colonel after 28 years' service as sioned officers.

vision is also made for the retirement. rge or placing on the supernumerary of those officers under certain conditions d to provide for cash payment or retirement pay for officers who may voluntarily accept such disposition of their active connection with he regular army.

The bill is designed to recognize the services of officers who have been commissioned within the past seven years as on an equality, so far as promotions are concerned, with those commissioned at a date prior to July 1, 1920 the House shall find the opportunity to indorse the action of the Senate before the end of the session, it will serve to brace up the morale of the commissioned personnel of the military establishment in a marked degree. On the other hand, the fact that the Senate has acted upon the matter, after so much care had been expended by its committee on military affairs, will undoubtedly result in favorable action by both houses in the next Congress should it fail of passage by the House this week. It is recognized that something must be done if the morale of the service is to be main-

TWO POWER QUESTIONS.

The claim raised by the State of Alabama and the proposal to have the government operate Muscle Shoals and distribute power therefrom constitute serious barriers against the employment of capital in power development throughout the United States. Until the questions now agitated are settled in favor of regulated private enterprise and against government intrusion in business, it is highly improbable that capital will be risked in great enterprises that now await development.

Alabama claims ownership of Muscle Shoals dam, basing its claim upon ownership of the river bed. It recognizes the right of the govrnment to improve navigation, but it denies that the government has a right to commercialize the power developed. If Alabama owns the bottom of the river, all other States have similar rights, and therefore the government may hesitate before it approves of further projects on rivers where power development is involved.

The Senate resolution authorizing the government to operate Muscle Shoals and disent in business in competition with private enterprise. If this plan should be adopted, it will paralyze further private power development, for no private party will attempt to ete with the government. The distribution of electric power is under he control of the government and the States, and exorbitant rates can be very quickly proted if the authorities are on the job. ier power companies merge into "one big n" or remain separate, they are subject to lation. There is no excuse for the in-ion of the government into the power busi-tor any other business. If there is failure te, the remedy is not found in taking or private business and operating it.

The two questions now raised should be setterest of the general welfare s that the power resources of the United State should be developed by private enterprise and then regulated for the common interest.

INDUSTRIES IN WASHINGTON.

Plans for the expansion of industrial activities in Washington and nearby States will be placed on a permanent footing on March 14, when representatives of various civic and commercial bodies meet to form what will be known as the joint industrial council. The movement has been actively agitated for some time, and already a fund has been appropriated by several of the interested bodies to bring to Washington a trained engineer to make a preliminary survey of existing industrial plants in the area. According to the sponsors the plan is to bring in additional "light" manufacturing plants of a nature that will not conflict with plans for city beautification, as a means of providing additional employment opportunities, to make more firm the financial condition of the community, and to eliminate its dependency on the Federal government for its annual pay roll.

The plan thus outlined, properly regulated and controlled, is worthy of general support. It can not be denied that the prosperous com munity is the self-supporting community, and that turning wheels of industry theoretically make for a contented population. The large modern industrial community is not pleasant, however, nor does Washington want to emulate it. "Light" manufacturing, utilizing electricity or gas for its power source, is unobjectionable provided it is placed in an inconspicuous location and is not permitted to become an eyesore. Washington desires this type of industrial development.

The movement must not be allowed to run away with itself, however, and those who sponsor it must have the courage to discourage heavy, noisy and dirty manufacturing plants, the owners of which may want to locate in Washington. Such action will demand genuine courage, for the temptation to say yes to an offer of a new industry with a large pay roll will be great. The course upon which the joint industrial council is about to embark is beset with pitfalls. It will be of real value to Washington only if it is followed as outlined, without any deviation.

NEEDLES AND PINS.

The census bureau reports a very heavy falling off in the value of needles, pins, hooksand-eyes and snap fasteners made in the 48 establishments reporting operations in 1925 as compared with the production of such items

This is not strange when it is remembered that in the word "pins" the enumerators include "metal hair pins." Bob hair has reached the zenith of its popularity during the past two years, and that doubtless accounts for a very heavy falling off in the demand for hairpins.

The total value of "common or toilet pins" manufactured was only $1,362,096, whereas the value of "safety pins" was $2,192,612, which may or may not have a direct relationship to the number of babies born during 1925.

While reporting the value of needles made the bureau took care to note knitting machine needles as upward of $4,000,000 and all others including those for sewing machines, $1,264, 032, and it will be noted that it was deemed unnecessary to mention hand knitting needles. If the figures giving the value of the latter class of domestic tools for 1918 were available they would probably show a value greater than the aggregate of all other needles combined. That was the year when every member of the fair sex between the ages of 5 and 95 plied the knitting needle "to help win the war." But the war is over, and so is the knitting, while the needles with which the operation was per formed have been dumped into the ash barrel with the tin foil and peach pits then so eagerly gathered and saved.

TRADE WITH CUBA.

There is a lesson in the reports of exports from Cuba that might be advantageous to the cotton growers of the Southern States, but probably it will go unheeded. Ever since the downward trend in the price of sugar and molasses in this country there has been a steady fall in the returns to the sugar planters of the island from their commerce with the United States. In 1926 this decrease amounted to $10,437,971, as compared with the previous vear.

But while there has been a steady decline in the value of the sugar exports an equally steady, though not so extensive, increase in the value of other agricultural products aside from tobacco is noted. The increases were in the exports of vegetables and fruits, henequen and rope, all of which showed gains. These increases indicate that the people of Cuba are turning their attention to the production of something else besides sugar and tobacco which have so long dominated their exports, especially to the United States.

As to the market for American goods in Cuba, the business depression which has existed on the island during the last year or two is likewise reflected in the imports. While the totals are not yet available, 65 per cent of the import needs of the Cubans is furnished by this country, and as there was a drop of 20% in the value of American goods exported to Cuban ports, as compared with $200,000. 000 in 1925, it is safe to estimate that the aggregate imports in 1926 fell approximately $58,000,000 below the figures of the preceding year. While imports generally showed a decline, exceptions are noted in the Cuban demand for a number of American products, including cotton cloths and hosiery, lard, rice, tires, evaporated milk, gasoline, leathers, lumber, steel sheets and nails and resin.

STREET PLATFORM BEACONS.

The traffic light scandal has led to an unfashing beacons installed on loading platforms to guard the public. The House attached a proviso to the District supply bill prohibiting expenditure of any part of the appropriation for "building, installing or maintaining street car loading platforms and lights of any description employed to distinguish same." language. The traffic scandal was laid bare Wednesday night, and on Friday, acting under the influence of the disclosures, the Senate the language in the bill.

If the appropriation bill is passed containing the clause, District officials can no longer have anything whatsoever to do with the beacons. They will not be able to install additional equipment, nor will they even be able to pay for the electricity necessary to run those already installed. They will lack the authority necessary to require the car company to continue their operation, there will be no funds available with which to remove them, and there will be no authority to direct their removal by the company. In all probability those installed will be abandoned, to stand unlighted in the middle of the street as hazards to all oncoming traffic

Loading platforms should at all times be marked as danger points, either by the automatic flashing beacons, or the old standby med lantern. The beacon is more modern. of course, and more in keeping with what a city of Washington's size and importance should have. It would be unfortunate if ramifications of the scandal probe should force their discontinuance, and it may be taken for granted that Congress does not so intend. By rewording the limiting clause it should not be difficult to provide funds to continue the operation of the beacons and at the same time make certain that no money will be available to purchase additional equipment until the probe is completed. It is to be hoped that in the comparatively few hours remaining Congress will clarify the situation.

FIGHTING STARLINGS

The city of Reading, Pa., has been visited by a scourge of starlings. Thousands of these birds made the steeple of Christ Episcopal church their nightly nesting place until their presence became intolerable. Residents attempted to drive them away with firearms, unsuccessfully, however, and as a last resort some one purchased a supply of Fourth of July roman candles, notified the fire department to hold itself in readiness and started in in earnest to drive out the intruders

Each night, for some time, firemen have swung themselves by ropes on the outside of the steeple, each armed with a plentiful supply of the fireworks. Other firemen have been stationed inside the steeple with buckets of water handy in case of a blaze. At a given signal the barrage is begun, and the birds fly screeching in terror from the brownstone tower in such numbers as to obscure a large electic sign 150 feet away. After the first night of pyrotechnics only about half the birds returned. Each night the number remaining is smaller, and it has been announced that the campaign will be continued until the birds are vanquished.

Washington might study this undertaking with profit. It looks very much as though the number of starlings coming to roost around the District building and in the park opposite is on the increase. Use of a fire hose with which to drive them away has not been successful Roman candles, however, undoubtedly would turn the trick. It is important to note that the Reading Humane society has given this method of treatment its approval, for a checkup after one display showed only five dead birds, none of them burned, but all with their necks broken by flying against buildings in the dark. The general public would be very much pleased if the fire department would obtain a supply of roman candles, rope off the affected area late some night and drive away the obnoxious visitors in a blaze of pyrotechnical

ARE TICKET BROKERS EXEMPT?

The next move is up to the commissioner of internal revenue in the matter of the resale of theater tickets. On Monday the United States Supreme Court handed down an opinion in which it held that the New York State law which fixes a maximum price which may be charged for theater tickets is unconstitutional and void.

The basis of the opinion is that the theater business is not a business with a public interest justifying legislative fixing of maximum prices, which the law of New York undertook to do. One of the ticket brokers of New York city was convicted of violating the law and apnealed on constitutional grounds to the court of last resort.

There have been many complaints against the exactions of ticket brokers in the resale of theater tickets in Washington from time to time, although as a rule the charge above the regular admission has not been exorbitant when compared with the demands of the ticket dealers in Manhattan, who frequently insist upon double the advertised price for choice seats. There was a movement on foot to bring the matter of fixing a maximum resale charge to the attention of Congress last winter with a view to legislation similar to the New York law. However, as that has been declared unworkable by the Supreme Court the local movement will probably be shandoned

But it is pointed out by some of those who consider themselves aggrieved that whenever ticket for a performance is purchased at the box office of a theater a specific additional charge of 10 per cent is exacted as a revenue tax, but then when an additional price is paid to the outside speculator that gentleman invariably fails to collect the revenue tax upon the sum that he adds to the regular price of the ticket.

. The question naturally arises, why does the collector of internal revenue permit that broker to sell tickets at an advance over original prices without collecting and reporting the additional tax?

Representative Gibson's suggestion that the President be authorized to appoint a condemnation jury commission composed of nonresidents of the District should not receive serious consideration. The proposal is a deliberate affront to the integrity of residents of Washington. There is no reason to believe that the government would be better protected that the government would be be leaded in the acquisition of Mall triangle property by in the acquisition by a resident body. The a nonresident than by a resident body. The nonresident jury would be ignorant of local conditions and could not function effectively.

The people won't stand for official graft.

The Retail Druggist Is for Law Enforcement

He is Opposed to Legislation and Regulations, on pretense of Law Enforcement, which are Burdensome to his Profession or of a Nature Impugning his Integrity in the Dispensing of Medicines under the Prohibition, Narcotic or any other Laws.

The Neighborhood Druggist is the Confidential and Dependable Servant of the People by Night and by Day, in Sickness and in Health.

This is a Public Acknowledgment of Appreciation to those Members of Congress who have Protected the 53,000 Retail Druggists and Millions of Drug Store Patrons Against the Harmful Effects of the Whiskey Monopoly Bill.

The National Association of Retail Druggists, the 46 State Pharmaceutical Associations and the Affiliated County and City Associations of Retail Druggists in this Country will apprise Their Many Patrons of this Commendable Service.

The Efforts of Retail Druggists in Opposition to the Whiskey Monopoly Bill are in Pursuance of an Intention, as Expressed by them in the Following Resolutions Adopted by State Associations last summer, to see that laws inimical to the public welfare are not enacted:

RESOLVED, That all Retail Druggists of this State get in touch with Candidates for Congress and all other Public Offices who have proved themselves friendly to Retail Druggists and Drug Store Patrons, or who Promise to Promote the Public Welfare by the Proper Recognition of the Drug Trade and Pharmacy.

Analysis of Existing Laws Proving Further Medicinal Whiskey Legislation Unnecessary

- 1. The representation that the Whiskey Monopoly Bill is necessary to promote law enforcement and the public welfare is not the fact. Existing law is ample for all purposes.
- 2. The present law authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to concentrate existing stocks of whiskey in as few bonded warehouses as he may designate (42 Stat. 375, The Concentration Act approved February 17, 1922). Under this law the Secretary of the Treasury has already concentrated stocks of whiskey into thirty-seven bonded warehouses from approximately two hundred, and may further concentrate.
- 3. The present law authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, to grant or withhold permits to manufacture and distribute whiskey and all other kinds of intoxicating liquor. (Controlling decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in Ma-King Products Company vs. Davis H. Blair, Commissioner, 271 U. S. 479; 46 Sup. Ct. Rep. 544; 70 Law Ed. 1046, June, 1926). This decision overrules the opinion of Attorney General, Vol. 32, Opinions of Attorney General, p. 467, rendered in 21. The Treasury Department may therefore limit the permits to manufacture hiskey for medicinal purposes to not less than two nor more than six.
- 4. Existing law imposes a fine of not more than $1,000.00 and imprisonment not more than three years "if any person shall affix, or cause to be affixed to or upon any cask or package containing, or intended to contain, distilled spirits, any imitation stamp or other engraved, printed, stamped, or photographed label, device, or token, whether same be designed as a trade-mark, caution notice, caution, or otherwise, and which shall be in the similitude or likeness of, or shall have the resemblance or general appearance of, any Internal Revenue stamp required by law to be affixed to or upon any cask or package containing distilled spirits." (Section 17, Act of February 8, 1875; 18 Stat. 307). Every bottle of medicinal whiskey released under Government permit bears the Internal Revenue stamp of the United States Government. Every pint of medicinal whiskey dispensed by the retail druggist must be bottled-in-bond and bear this stamp. Both distillers and retail druggists are under heavy bond, and severe penalties are imposed by both the National Prohibition Act and the Internal Revenue laws for infraction.

- 5. Legalized medicinal whiskey is not used for the manufacture of "bootleg" liquor, but alcohol and "moonshine" are. The Prohibition Unit has publicly announced that 90 per cent of its seizures consists of "bootleg" whiskey with alcohol as the base.
- 6. The purity of medicinal spirits is safeguarded both by the Federal and the State laws. The standard for whiskey as a medicine is fixed in the United States Pharmacopoeia. Any retail druggist selling below standard is subject to the revocation of his license as a registered pharmacist under the State pharmacy laws and to the revocation of his Federal permit under the national law because the dispensing of "cut" whiskey by a retail druggist is not dispensing of whiskey in good faith for medicinal purposes.
- 7. The bill limits the price at which the two to six exclusive permittees shall buy existing stocks of whiskey, which is in their interest; but does not limit the price at which they may sell this whiskey and their own to the corporation provided for in H. R. 15601, submitted by the Treasury Department and rejected by the Ways and Means Committee. Nor does the bill limit the price at which the corporation may sell to the public through retail druggists. The only limitation in the bill as to the selling price to retail druggists and the public is that it shall be a "fair and reasonable price," to be determined by the corporation, composed of the exclusive permittees named by the Secretary of the Treasury.
- 8. There is no necessity for the proposed legislation, unless it be to enable certain selfish interests to control the manufacture and distribution of medicinal whiskey.
- 9. Finally, retail druggists object to being placed before the public in the position of "profiteers" as an excuse for a Federal statute inspired by selfish interests for the benefit of selfish interests, the effect of which would be to leave the retail druggists and the public at the mercy of an unscrupulous monopoly.

The following signatures of officers of the National, State and local pharmaceutical associations are appended with express authorization after a careful study of the analysis of both the Green and Hawley bills by the association officers:

He explained, however, that that was not the reason for the resignations.

He said the board of trustees has a committee which was supposed to consult the senior council before promulgating new regulations.

New York, March 1 (By A. P.).—Resignation of the Princeton student council as a protest against the university ruling against undergraduate maintenance of automobiles was "perfectly justified" in the opinion of the Spectator, student publication of Columbia university.

"It (the council) had passed a sane ruling on a problem that came within its jurisdiction," said the local campus organ. "It refused to listen to dictation from above, and when the trustees went over its head, it took the only possible course—resignation."

Zamboanga, P. I., March 1 (By A. P.).—Lieut. Col. Luther H. Stevens, commander of a Philippine constabulary detachment here, returned today from Cotabato province and reported that the rebellious movement against the government by the Alangkat tribe had been checked.

The officer said he conferred with Alaiang, Moro leader. Alaiang was surrounded by 300 of his followers but all were conciliatory, Stevens said. The conference resulted in an agreement to end the insurrection. The principal grievance-of the tribesmen was that a few big datus (chiefs) had been demanding exorbitant tributes which the governor has promised to investigate.

STOKOWSKI HOLDS BATON

Philadelphia Symphony Leader Does Not Permit Neuritis to Hinder Performance.

AUDIENCE ENTHUSIASTIC

afternoon directed a concert of that orchestra in Washington auditorium in a most finished manner, holding the baton in his left hand.

The audience was enthusiastic over his achievement, for it was apparent that he had mastered the difficult art anew with the unaccustomed hand ard arm and displayed a great deal of artistic finish and command of the baton in this new way.

artistic finish and command of the baton in this new way.

Never was Stokowski in a more poetic and understanding mood of the intricacles and beauties of orchestral music than yesterday. To begin with he had a program of compositions which varied from the loveliness of the classic to the ultra modern "Spanish Rhapsody of Ravel." The scope of his program appeared to give him added inspiration, and at the close of the program it was hard to pick out which one had been played in the most outstanding manner. The majestic strains of Handel's "Overture in D Minor" made a fitting beginning to the notable program. In this number the work of the winds and strings was perfectly balanced and generous applause greeted its conclusion.

To pearly all the audience the six

To nearly all the audience the six movements of the "Water Music" by Handel came as a new composition. It was exquisite from the opening bar to the last measure of the "Allegro deciso," with which it was concluded. This dainty conception of the great classic master of the day when music as well as chivalry was in flower, presented the murmuring songs of waters in a variety of themes.

Mr. Stokowski had to bow his ac-

Mr. Stokowski had to bow his acknowledgements again and again at its conclusion.

The Bach group, "Ich Ruf zu Dir, Herr Jesu Christ," and "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor," both sustained the successful impression of the concert. After the intermission DeBussy's Nocturnes were played as only the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra can play them, with every delicate nuance and outline brought out with perfect art and the contrasting tone color worked in by the master hand of the leader. Sprightly and filled with melodic charm was the "Rapsodie Espagnole," by Ravel, with which the program was completed. In things musical and where conducting is concerned, whether with the right or left hand and arm, Stokowski has few equals and no superiors in this country.

The Philadelphia Symphony orchestra concert was given under the local management of the T. Arthur Smith Coacert Bureau.

AT THE FIRST WHITE WARNING

CONTROL DANDRUFF!

DON'T dally with loose dandruff (epithelial debris) for one moment.

Always unsightly, it is often the danger signal of very serious scalp trouble—possible loss of hair, or worse, humiliating baldness.

Go after loose dandruff in earnest at the first white warning.

The systematic use of Listerine will usually do the trick. Nothing complicated about it, either.

You simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage thoroly. Use plenty of it. And do it systematically. You will be simply delighted with the results in a very short time.

Aside from its ability to check dandruff, Listerine has an exhilarating effect that makes your scalp feel clean, soothed and healthy. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo.

A Postscript for Ladies

Few preparations equal Listerine as a means of keeping hair well groomed. It seems to have a natural faculty for keeping the hair in a glossy wave and renewing its life after a "permanent."

Dallas, Tex., March 1 (By A. P.).—

More recreation is needed for boys and girls in rural districts, while city children are enjoying too much unbridded leisure, educators declared at the convention of the department of superintendence, National Education association, here today.

Rural school superintendents discussed ways and means of obtaining better schools and more facilities for play for their charges. On the other hand, educators from cities said their problem was to find methods for better utilizing the spare time enjoyed by those attending city schools.

"Commercialized recreations are taking up too much of the leisure of the American people." Floyd T. Goodier, superintendent of schools of Chicago Heights, Ill., asserted. "The schools are partly to blame. Their expensive athletic programs have entirely overlooked the true needs of physical education and have provided games where

MANY STOCKS RECEDE AFTER OPENING STRONG

FEW INDUSTRIALS FIRM

Motors at New High.

FEW INDUSTRIALS FIRM

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, March 1.—Traders on the buying side were forced to adopt a more or less defensive attitude in the stock market today, and they scarcely held the ground they have gained in the flast two weeks. After a strong opening many stocks became reactionary. Bearish traders made a bold attempt to test out the market in the light of the lage increase reported in brokers' loans, but as a rule no great amount of shares were dislodged and a lowering of the call-money rate to 4¼, following a 4½ renewal rate, helped to restore buying activity. At the worst the market was irregular, and at the best a number of high prices were recorded. The best prices were, for the market was irregular, and at the best a number of high prices were recorded. The best prices were for the most part, scored at the opening and toward the close. The turnover again was well over the 2,000,000-share mark for the twelfth successive full business day.

General Motors, active leader of today's session, snapped into new high ground at 170 in the early trading when large blocks of stock came out, and despite stubborn resistance the price fell to 168½, the closing figure, a net loss of nearly appoint. United States Steel and most of the independents were active, although price movements were narrow, most of them being fractionally lower at the close.

General Motors, active leader of today's session, snapped into new high ground at 170 in the early trading, price fell to 168½, the closing figure, a net loss of nearly a point. United

A few of the industrials withstood the felling pressure firmly, and ended the day with net gains ranging up to 4%
boints, among them being Colorado
Fluel, Radio Corporation, Allied Chemical, American Ice, Union Bag & Paper, Texas Land Trust, Loose-Wiles, Mack
Truck, National Lead, Nevada Copper,
American Smelting, Kennecott, American Locomotive, Jewel Tea, Eastman Rodak, American Safety Razor and a few others. Naturally the list on the filmus side was a long one.
The rails were only moderately active, with losses and gains about equal at the finish. Houston Oil dropped 10 points net of its big gain yesterday and few in their lines partially, dipping their colors as it were, in passing the foulk of the March 1, 1926, stock mar sheet, when the list took a nose dive in the final hour and losses up to 20 points were numerous. The technical boondition of the market probably was better today than a year go. Broke's loans are some $400,000,000 below lask year and greater proportion of stock; is ewned outright or held by strong in therests, Prices are higher, but are backed by larger earnings and dividends.

WALL STREET NEWS BRIEFS

New York, March 1 (By A. P.).—Net operating income on the first 63 railroads to report January earnings aggregate $51,697,000, against $53,547,620 in January, 1926, and $69,793,000 last December. On this basis January net for all class one carriers is calculated at about $63,000,000, compared with actual net of $65,724,560 a year ago, and $81,017,000 in December, 1926. This would represent January's proportion of an annual return of 4.93 per cent. on a rate-making valuation of $21,650,000,000 at the close of 1926.

Large increases in production and shipments of the United States Steel Corporation last month are expected in the trade to have an effect on unfilled orders which will be made public March 10, present indications being that another decrease will be shown, probably in excess of the drop of 160,792 tons reported for January.

Net income of General Asphait Co. for 1926 was $2,001,991, equal after preferred dividends to about $8 a share on the average amount of common stock orfstanding during the year. New England Southern mills had a deficit of $1,032,672 for 1926, after all charges, including an inventory write-nown, in contrast to profit of $211,929 in 1925, or $5.29 a share on the preferred.

R. G. Dun & Co. reports 2,035 commercial failures in the United States in February, compared with 2,465 the month before and 1,801 in February last year. Liabilities were $46,940,716, against $51,280,232 in January and $34,176,348 in February, 1926.

Patino Mines & Enterprises Consolidated, controlling large tin mines in Bolivia, declared a distribution of 4 shillings on the capital stock, payable March 15 to holders of record March 10, the first on the American shares since their listing here in January after public offering of 200,000 shares by Lehman Bros.

Operating income of the American Telephone & Telegraph for 1926 was $37,503,786 against $38,024,008 in 1925. Gross was $91,323,925 compared with 886,534,623.

Park Utah Consolidated Mines has increased the annual dividend from 60 cents to 80 cents a share, with quarterly payment of 20 cents of April 1.

Griffith Elated Over Presence of Veteran Outfielder.

Sees Banner Season Ahead; Wage Reported at $60,000.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

Tampa, Fla., March 1.—President Clark Griffith wore a "Sunny Jim" smile tonight and was so pleased at the arrival of Tris Speaker this afternoon that some of the Washington players were seriously thinking of striking him for a raise or a little advance money. And the former Indian chieftain seemed to be glad to be here, stating that he was in excellent shape, never felt better in his life, and hoped by his work with the Nationals to make Ty Cobb's "vindication" year look like 30 cents compared to his own. He will don the Washington livery in the Plant field drill tomorrow, and declares that he only needs four or five days' work to get him in tip-top shape.

While neither Griffith nor Speaker will give out any information regarding the player's bonus for signing and salary, advices from New York, where the scribes know everything and admit it. are to the effect that the Nats' owner.

scribes know everything and admit it, are to the effect that the Nats' owner is paying the veteran fly chaser $60,000 for this season—$10,000 for signing and $50,000 for his work.

There is no way of verifying this report, but Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, who was after Tris as well as Cobb, is authority for the fact that he made Speaker an offer of more than this amount and it was turned down.

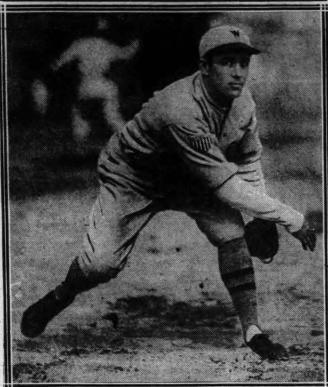

Mack and Tris always have been great friends and, according to the mahout of the White Elephants, he now has even more respect for the former Cleve-land pilot.

Speaking before the Rotary club here few days ago the Quaker City man-ger used Speaker's case as an example of honesty among professional ball players, stating that Tris would not players, stating that Tris would not consider a proposition to play with the Athletics because he had promised to work for Griffith for a less amount. "I told him to name his own terms," said Mack, "but Speaker, then a free agent, stated he had made Griffith a proposition and, although he had not yet signed, he felt honor bound to do so regardless of the personal financial loss. This cost Speaker considerable money, I am sure, but it testifies to the honesty of the man.

"And, when Griffith did accept his terms, Speaker wouldn't be satisfied with merely telegraphing me of phoning me about it. He made a special trip to Philadelphia to see me about it personally. You can't make be believe that a man who would be that square could be guilty of any crookedness in baseball or anything else."

Colonials Game Tonight Closes Entry Lists for A.A.U. Season: G. W. Five Improved.

Yearling Quintets to Keen Contests Now Meet in Preliminary Contest.

HE curtain will fall on District in-

THE curtain will fall on District intercollegiate basketball tonight when the Catholic university and George Washington quintet clash in a return battle in the Colonials' gymnasium that should prove a fitting climax to the current season.

Both teams have been primed especially for this engagement, and tonight's fray should provide plenty of spirted action. Catholic university, by virtue of its 22-18 victory over the Colonials in an earlier contest, is the favorite to topple the Lemon-coached crew, but George Washington of late has revealed hitherto unknown strength, downing the highly-touted American university five in decisive fashion, and capturing the last trio of games on their schedule by goodly margins.

The Colonials also will be playing on their home court, a factor which will greatly heighten their confidence of winning.

Catholic university will be represented by a well-balanced combination that has worked smoothly and with machine-like precision throughout its campaign. Coach Rice will in all probability use the same five players who have held down varsity berths since the start of the season.

Capt. Long and the aggressive Keale will start in forwards, with the depend-able Carney at the center post, and the two clever guards, Foley and Harthe two clever guards, Foley and Harvey, in the back court.

Coach Lemon, of the Colonials, is well pleased by the general improvement of his charges. Goodson, who has risen to the heights of stardom in the last several tussles, is the man the Erooklanders must watch, and the battle between him and "Dull Flash" Carney should be one worthy of attention.

Sapp and Allshouse, at forwards, and Perry and Carey at guards, probably will be the other Colonial warriors on whom George Washington is pinning its hopes to come through with flying colors. Whatever the outcome, the meeting between these rivals is certain to be a battle from start to finish.

Authorities handling the game are endeavoring to obtain the services of Joe Ellring, former coach of Columbla university, to referee the contest.

The preliminary between the fresh-aloney tussle, but Tex Rickard predicted today a capacity attendance of close to 20,000 and gate receipts in excess of $201,000, an indoor high mark in boxing.

Observers declared McTigue to more impressive than Sharkey in light workouts today.

This caused no change in wagering, which held Sharkey a consistent favorite at odds ranging from 8 to 5 to 10 to 5.

In last night's play of the Scanlon pocket-billiard tourney, Green defeated Hissey, 100 to 67. Cross meets Martin tonight at 8 o'clock. Willie Lewis, former Pennsylvania State champion, refereed the match and gave an exhibition of fancy shots. He will be on hand tonight.

McTigue is determined to throw all the new-found power of his right-hand knockout blow into the fray. His chances of victory depend on whether it connects with a vital spot, experts agree, for they concede Sharkey the advantage in everything except punching power. Sloughing Charges

The Boston fighter has youth. 20 pounds in weight, height, and reach in his favor, to offset McTigue's experience and wallop. In boxing skill and speed there is little to choose, to judge from the way they stepped around their sparring partners today.

The 15-round route is held to favor Sharkey's chances, since he is bigger and stronger, but to this Mike reported: "I'll be able to go the limit, all right, but I doubt if Sharkey does."

The distance is about a mile and Sultivan said he would not train for the attempt or try to set a record. It will be the first time a gate swim has been attempted in March and the water, with an average temperature of 40 degrees, is colder than at any other time of the year.

George Herman Ruth, the well-known human being, will accept no compromise on his $100,000 salary demand for the 1927 season when he pengages Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, in New York tomorrow to discuss the problem.

The big bam, the big slam and a few other things of baseball, gave out this information today as he arrived from Hollywood and boarded the Twentieth Century Limited an hour and a half later.

"There is nothing else for me to say," Ruth said. "Eether I get it or either I don't. I have asked for $100.-1000. I see no reason why I should accept less."

IAMI, Fla., March 1 (By A. P.).—
The Keenland Stud's Don Diego, owned by J. H. Keene and perfectly ridden by the veteran jockey, Johnny Callahan, won the Nassau purse, a 6-furlong sprint, today. It was a rattling good performance put up by, Don Diego and stamps him a very good sprinter. He ran the distance in 1:11 1-5, which equals the track record for the route. Indian Love Call was second and Adamas third. Don Diego, a rapid breaker, rushed into the lead, followed by Ima Baby. However, the pace set by Don Diego was too strenuous for the filly and she stopped to a walk. Leatherwood and Miss Rosedale alternated in the lead to the stretch, where they both stopped. Palm Court then took up the running, but in the last sixteenth Workman brought Dry Moon up, and in a drive won by half a length going away. Palm Court beat Agnes Call 5 lengths for the place.

The mile and a quarter event, third on the card, was won by Alldin, running in the silks of Mrs. W. Strawbridge, with Betsy Bacon second and Just in Fun third. Hot Pepper opened a wide lead in the first half mile, but the end of 7 furlongs he stopped so first that he dropped back into last paces.

He ran the distance in 1:42 2-5, which is just one-fifth of a second slower than the track record.

OLLYER'S COMMENT SPORT of KINGS

IES FAUSTUS.

Translated from the Latin, means this is my lucky day. I have a kupla hot ones to for the coonskins at Miami this aft. One my lucky day. I have a kupla hot ones is DON QUIXOTE in the third, which I believe is the safest proposition that has come to me in weeks. On top of this special info, this trick worked three-quarters of a mile in 1:15 2-5 pulled to a walk the other morning. The other special is ALGOL, a shifty juvenile from the McLean stable. This youngster was given a blow-out of three-eighths in 36 2-5. As Sophie Glutz use to say, you can't beat that for real information.

The opening affair looks like a tuff one, and just the kind of spot for a long baby like BENNY RUBIN to gather the moss. VOLT appears to be the real contender here with POCKET MOUSE shading the others. JOHN W. WEBER appears to be in a soft spot in the fourth. His race Saturday was extra good. WARFARE and JUST FOLKS for what is left. ROY-CROFTER has a shade the best of the weights of those in the fifth. CRYS-STAL DOMINO, scratched Tuesday, goes here. Worked a half in close to 48 the other morning and may be good enough to upset the frijoles.

TRACTOR seems best over the route in the seventh and he is again at his best form.

Good things generally travel in pairs

Hines, Javeline Star,

Make Marks in Baseball

Make Marks in Baseball

Georgetown university's is eliment throwing sensation. Creth B. Hines, from Texas, has been having trouble with his eyes recently as the result of a peculiar accident. Hines, who, in addition to being the former national scholastic javeline champion, is something of an all-round athlete, was practicing broad-jumping a few days ago. Following a trial, he landed in the sand pit head first in such a way that his fingers went in his eyes. He is being treated at the university infirmary.

sters in recent years are "Bobby" Stovens, of Western and "Bill" Werber, of Tech. Werber is now enrolled at Dule university, while Stevens has another year to perform for Western.

In the opinion of many baseball critics these boys will have no trouble making any college nine and even at this time it has been rumored that several major league scouts have placed their stamp of approval on Werber, though he professes to have his mind set against professional baseball. Stevens has been offered a tryout by Connie Mack.

The second werber, of Tech. And Stuffy Stewart, who lives at Lake City. Fla., only a couple of jumps away, isn't here yet. He and "Ginger" Joe Carroll are now the only absentess. Ruel has not actually arrived, but has wired that he is en route from St. Louis and is due tomorrow.

TRACKMEN'S SELECTIONS BORDE DROPS DECISION TO DUNDEE.

Baltimorean Piles Up Lead Near End at Aloysius Club.

BUSTER DUNDEE, the clever little Baitimore scrapper, punched his way to a decisive victory over Jimmy Borde, of New York, last night in the feature bout offered members of the Aloysius club. With the exception of the first and third rounds, which were fairly even, Dundee piled upenough points in the remaining sessions to win handily.

In the 8-round semiwindup, Buck Zebline, of Baltimore, outpointed Sammy Hogan, but lacked the steam to put the tough local boy down after following up his advantages. Frankle De Angelo, weighing 125 pounds, six pounds heavier than Eddie Enos, his New York opponent, won by a slight shade in one of the best fights on the card.

In one of the 4-round openers Jack Skinner took a beating at the hands of Billy Steers, the Marine.

The opener was the only bout to produce anything near a knockout when Billy Fitzgerald, of the Southwest side had 'Hickie'' Lacarione, also a Washington product, in such a bad way in the third that his seconds tossed in the towel.

Lacarione, who was knocked aprawling through the ropes in the second and knocked down in the third, was on the verge of a knockout when the halt was called.

Rickety, ram, oh my!
A telling a tale am I,
Of a fly that flew
Near a man I knew
Who was shutting a sleepy-eye.
With a buzz and a boze
It tickled his nose
And danced on the rim of his ear,
And his face he'd clap
With a slapety-alap
To frighten the fly, my dear.

"I think he gave me that job as stenographer so he could keep an eye on me. Isn't it funny? He was paying me to work for him, and now we've got to pay him for working for us!"

"How much?" asked Mrs. Pullen.

"Why, he han't rendered a bill, yet. but I suppose it'll he pretty high."

"Lawyers are dreadfully expensive." her mother said. "But we're rich now. We can afford one."

"He told me to do nothing—to wait for word of any missing diamonds, and meanwhile he would try to trace that chest, to find out where it came from. The newspaper item was what cleared it all up. Those Chinese burglars, and the fellows who bought the chests from us were thieves who had followed the diamonds all the way from Chins!

"So, when it was sure we'd get the reward, I sent one of the big diamonds to you in care of Sam and left another on your bed.—just to help pass the time. I sent one latch of things by Sam before, hoping he'd come in and talk to me—but he didn't come in!"

She threw her arms around the youth's neck. "It's all over now, and we're all happy, aren't we?"

"I will be." said Mrs. Pullen, "when the ladies have seen these diamonds."

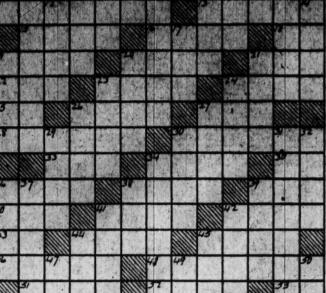

The smaller stones still were in the box which Julia had given to her father and which he had dropped on his wife's lap the day before. Mrs. Pullen took off the lid and looked at the gems, beaming.

"All my old friends are coming today, except Mrs. Hamilton," she said. "They

If you are underweight, you might do well to study a calory chart. Every meal should include energy-giving foods. A quart of milk daily, wholegizh bread and cereals, green vegetables, potatoes, rice, and fresh fruits are heartily to be recommended. In addition, be careful not to read depressing literature (of which there is overmuch at present), take a feal interest in some quiet sport, and permit a period of leisure each day.

The tendency toward "jumpy" nerves and an easily irritated disposition can be foiled, and, if you value, your popularity, you must hasten to learn the charm of repose and leisure.

Dear Viola Paris: Is it advisable to use an astringent on the face once a day, or how often? What can be done day, or how often? What can be done for lines under the eyes. MRRS, N.
Answer—I think it is a good habit to use a mild astringent each time after cleansing the face and neck; it acts as a tonic and helps to ward off wrinkles. To correct lines under the eyes, you must be sure to get sufficient sleep and to avoid fatigue or any infringement of the common sense rules of health. It is helpful to apply lanolin or a good eye cream around the eyes at bedtime.

many charming frocks, but there is no reason why you should wear it if you do not like it. Vogue's artist has sketched for you a frock that is thoroughly smart and that might be included in any woman's wardrobe. Yet the long lines of the pleats, the V neck, the bloused waist, will all make the least of your inches. Do sure that you make it large enough—one of the worst mistakes a large woman makes is that of fitting her frocks too tightly, so that they have a strained at these and the worst mistakes a large woman makes is that of fitting her frocks too tightly, so that they have a strained at these is that of fitting her frocks too tightly. Since the vogue for block continues you might very well make the frock in black creps (the dull surrace will be better than a lustrous eatin) and the vest and collar in the flesh colored creps de chine. To complete your ensuring choose block his jumps and a black felt hat with a medium bring.

FEW FOREIGNS ADVANCE Bale! Isoue.

New York, March I (By the Associated Press).—The bond market today was a rather listless affair, with prices remaining steady. Interest once more centered in bonds with attractive control in the state of the state

Texas adjustment 5s were well supported.

Belling pressure caused slight recessions intermittently for the past fewdays. New York Railway income 6s and Interborough Rapid Transit 5s were particularly soft spots.

New highs attained by Granby 7s and 6s featured the generally dull industrial list.

Foreign bonds were more active than for several days. Polish 8s and Italian 7s moved up slightly on reports of progress in negotiations for new loans to be floated in this country. An advance of nearly 2 points to a new peek was scored by German General Electric 6½s.

There was little interest in the Pederal government group in which prices were irregular.

An offering of $11.000,000 par value of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of the American Chain Co. will be offered soon by a syndicate headed by Dillion, Read & Co. The company plans to call for redemption on April 1 its outstanding 8 per cent class A stock at $30 a share and accrued dividends.
